

Ethical Policy

- Attribution of authorship shall be limited to those who have made a significant contribution as to conception, design, execution, or interpretation of content.
- Contributors shall ensure that entire work is original. Where material is taken from other sources, due acknowledgement should be provided either in the body or the footnote..If the paper is found partly or fully plagiarised, it will be rejected immediately.
- The contributor shall not publish the same article in any other journal.
- When the contributor identifies, or discovers any significant error or inaccuracy in his/her own published work, it shall be his obligation to immediately intimate to the journal editor and ensure that correction is carried out in the paper.
- The authors shall furnish a letter stating that the work is original.
- All articles shall compulsorily undergo plagiarism test.